Cookies: We collect technical information and usage data, which may be linked and identified with your account, by using cookies and other tracking technologies. We may use cookies to store certain types of information each time you use our Services. To find out more about how we use cookies, please review the additional information in this Privacy Policy under the Section entitled “Do we use cookies or other tracking technologies?”

- Data we collect from third parties.

Information We Collect from Third Parties: We receive information about you from third parties (i) when you choose to sign in to our Applications using a third-party social network account (such as Facebook, Google, etc). The information we receive from such third parties may include your name, user name, photographs, and other biographic information, and device identifier, network service account number assigned by such third party. You should review the terms of service and privacy policies of such third parties and understand how they treat your data and what data they might share with us.

2. How do we use the information collected?

We use the information collected from you solely relating to providing our Services and information about our Services.

3. Do we use cookies or other tracking technologies?

We use cookies and similar technologies to facilitate and customize your use of our Services. A cookie is a small data file, which we store on your computer or mobile device that can later be retrieved to identify you to us. We may use cookies and similar technologies, among other things, to:

(a) allow us to recognize you and your device;

(b) allow our Services to interact with a third-party platform (where you have chosen to allow such interaction);

4. With whom do we share your information?

Generally: We do provide some of our Services through contractual arrangement with affiliates, services providers, and other third parties (collectively, "Service Providers").

We will share your personal information with our Service Providers for all purposes described in Section entitled "How do we use the information collected?" and as reasonably necessary in order to provide the Services to you or to carry out your instruction (for example, logging in with your social media account). When our Service Providers collect or receive personal information, we require them to use such information only on our behalf and for purposes consistent with this Privacy Policy.

Sharing of Non-Personally Identifiable Information: We will not share any non-personally identifiable information about users (where your data is on an anonymous and aggregated basis) to third party companies, including but not limited to third party advertisers, consultants, service providers and our affiliates.

Business Transfer: In a business transaction, such as a merger, acquisition, dissolution (including bankruptcy), change of control, or a sale of all or a portion of our assets, customer information, including personally identifiable information, generally is one of the transferred business assets. In the event that YoungShine undergoes such transactions, including preparation of any of such transactions, we may share, disclose or transfer all of your information, including personal information, to the successor. Any third party to which we transfer or sell our assets will have the right to continue to use the personal and other information that you provide to us in the manner set out in this Privacy Policy. We will not sell or rent your information to any third party outside of these circumstances.

Compliance with Legal Obligations: Occasionally we may be required by law to disclose personally identifiable information. For example, we disclose such information upon receipt of a court order, subpoena, or to cooperate with a law enforcement investigation. We fully cooperate with law enforcement agencies in identifying those who use our Services for illegal activities. We reserve the right to report to law enforcement agencies any activities that we in good faith believe to be unlawful.

5. How do we keep your information secure?

The security of your personal information is important to us. We maintain appropriate technical and physical safeguards to protect your personal information against unauthorized access, loss and misuse. We take commercially reasonable security measures to protect your personal information, including encryption of sensitive information using Secure encryption algorithm.

Although we take appropriate measures to safeguard against unauthorized disclosure or access of your information, no security measure is perfect. Thus, we cannot guarantee the security of your information. You hereby agree to use our Services at your own risk. We do not assume any responsibility for the unauthorized use or access of your information under our control.

6. Where do we hold your information?

Your personal information may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside of your country or jurisdiction, using Google Firebase's Cloud Firestore service. It may also be processed by personnel of our affiliates and third-party service provider who may operate outside of your country or jurisdiction. In such case, we will take reasonable steps to require such third party in possession of your personal information to take commercially reasonable security measures to protect the information. On the other hand, the data and privacy protection laws of other countries may not be as comprehensive as those laws in your country of residence. By using our Services, you consent to your personal information being transferred to recipients in other countries and being stored and processed in the servers located in other countries.

7. How can you review, correct or delete your personally identifiable information?

You can request a copy of the information that we hold about you. If you would like a copy of some or all of your personal information, you could view every personal information we store in your own Application on profile page.

We want to make sure that your personal information is accurate and up to date. You may also update your account information by logging into your account.

You may request to delete your personal information by contacting our Customer Support to process your request. We may ask you for certain personal information to confirm your identity before processing your request. Please note that before we process your deletion request, we will ask you to verify your account information or log into the account you wish to delete to confirm your identity.

Please be aware that we may not be able to delete your information in some cases. For example, we cannot correct or delete any information that you have shared on any third-party social network or platform. In addition, any information that is saved in aggregate form or that cannot, in our sole discretion, be removed without undue burden to us may not be deleted.

Moreover, we may not be able to delete your information if retention of your information is necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, enforce our agreements, and exercise or defend against a legal claim. Such information may be disclosed pursuant to this Privacy Policy regardless of whether you have terminated your account or deleted your information.

Any third-party platform that you use to access the Services may also retain backup copies of your information even after your account is deleted or terminated and may use them subject to their policies.

If you are a resident of California or an EU resident, you can find your privacy rights under "14. California Privacy Rights" or "16. EU Data Protection Rights."

8. What are your choices regarding collection, use and distribution of your information?

We will not use your personal information for marketing purposes. However, you have no choice to decide the information sharing between our Service Providers since it is deemed necessary to ensure your smooth access to our Services.

9. What should you know about privacy policies and data collection at any third party sites accessible from our Services?
